"Black fighter, come in, do you read me?"

"I read you loud and clear"

"We are closing in on the target, stand by"

"Copy that. What does the Imperial scanners read?"

"Looks all clear."

"Good you have permission to occupy the Rebel scums Military base."

"Commander two Rebel starfighter signals on the Doppler, wait no more there appearing rapidly what is this?!"

"black fighter to imperial cruiser, calm down what is your situation?"

"There are thousands of Rebel aircrafts inbound their long range blasters are keeping us at bay they're outnumbering us at least 3:1"

"How in the Wormhole did they go into hyper space but not show up on the radar"

"Our men are going down fast I'm calling the retreat!"

"Copy that cruiser over and out."

BUT AS THE TRANSMISSION ENDED BLACK FIGHTER CALLED FOR THE IPV-1

STANDING FOR DARK SQUAD. IT WAS A SQUAD OF TIE FIGHTERS ARMED WITH BOMBS AND STORMTROOPERS MEANT TO DESTROY THE REBELS. IT WAS A DEAD END FOR THE REBELS.

"You all have permission to infiltrate."

IPV-1 currently consisted of 11 of the most dangerous bombs in the galaxy and can destroy 30 fighters in one blow. the republic had to surrender. Indeed part of the squad consisted of former Storm Troopers that had defected, the total number of confirmed kills for the squad was impressive.

"Black Fighter to IPV-1, formation Delta - Two - Six - Three. I repeat, formation Delta- Two - Six - Three."

"Black 6, no help for the other pilots?"

"Affirmative Black 6, use their retreat as a distraction. Infiltration of Rebel Base is Primary and only objective. Fall in."

"Black 3, copy."

"Black Fighter, Let's do this!"

The 11 bombs flew in a spiraling X pattern. the missile engine on full power. They were cutting a line straight towards the Rebel ships at incredible speeds. It took minutes before Rebels to realized the danger and ordered its fighters to abandon the chase of black and red squadrons. However, at the speed The IPV-1 ship was progressing, it was already to late for them to Blow all the ships up before all the rebels got away to there base.

The IPV-1 Missiles flew with incredible speed taking down enemy ships with astonishing ability. But, as they took hostile ships down, they were surprised. The Empire's fleets that were pursuing The rebel squadrons turned around. and started pursuing the IPV-1 instead of imperial starfighters.

"Black Leader to Red Leader; I have a visual of two hostile fleets. Ten to one-hundred ships in each. Seems like they've let You an red go to pursue to us, we're surrounded. Awaiting orders"

"Copied; adopt a defensive formation of your choice, we'll come back for you."

"Red Leader to black Leader; converge on two hostile fleets at the rebel star destroyers rear"

"Black Leader to IPV-1; adopt 'Loose Spacing', variation 3. DO NOT GET HIT"

"Black 6 to Leader, wasn't the goal to infiltrate?"

Leader to Black 6, we can't infiltrate were completely outnumbered, we wouldn't be able to avoid the defenses. The rebels are on their way.

"Black Leader! Dammit Black 4 get back in formation! Stick to the plan Jaina!"

" Black 4 to Black leader: I am the only one following the plan. Commencing radio silence."

"BLACK FOUR! UGH! Black 3 cover Black 4! The rest of you move to variation 3, now!"

Black 4 pulled off her imperial helmet letting her black straight hair flow out from underneath the imperial starfighter controls piece of equipment. The open air felt good. As a former rebel, she found it hard to work with imperial pilots. She understood the importance of this mission. If they could destroy Rebel base it would be worth sacrificing all 3 squadrons. Instead of focusing on the mission though, they aborted and focused on blindly fighting a larger enemy force. Fools, she thought. She was going to complete the mission or die trying. At the thought of death, she looked out the window and saw Black 3's ship covering her 9.

Together they continued at maximum speed towards the enemy base. In her mind Jaina was going over the schematics to the base, thinking, trying to piece together a plan that would work. It was all up to her and Black 3 now.

PEW! PEW! PEW! BOOM! BOOM! BOOM!

The sounds of battle raged.

"Black leader, do you copy... BLACK LEADER!" "Red leader we have lost signal with black fighter."

So it was that the black 1 and 2 Squadron was massacred. Black 4 managed to complete the mission. the rebel base was destroyed, along with the Republic's Armada. They were remembered as heroes.

black 1 and 2 Squadron faded from memory to legend. They even say it was us who discovered the plans for the Rebel civil war, leading to it's destruction at the hands of the new Sith Kylo Ren. The truth is... in the end they were fools. They chose to engage in a pointless dogfight instead of focusing on the mission... I still blame myself. Maybe if I had tried harder to convince them... maybe they could have been conquering the galaxy quicker . crying noises End Recording.

The Squadrons who remained alive returned to the star destroyer. We formed in a line in the Hanger when Kylo Ren appeared on the holoboard. He said "Good Job Elite Squadrons you all are promoted. I have another mission for you"

One of the imperial pilots said "Why are you so stiff" Kylo ren says "Break times over" Kylo ren chokes him until he passes out but he doesn't die" Kylo ren says "Break times over"
